- Musical education is an asset to your child's future. It has many positive effects on children's emotional and intellectual development. It has been scientifically proven that studying music makes children smarter!

- In order to help make musical education more affordable, each year, CCMA awards thousands of dollars in scholarships to students.

- Along with our mission to help children benefit from musical education, we offer a FREE assessment and consultation conducted by top scholars of the music profession.

- For children without any previous experience in music, this assessment is designed to help determine your child's interest, aptitude, ear for music, rhythm and coordination in music.

- For students who are currently studying music, this assessment helps determine if your child is developing his or her talent to its fullest potential and if a fast tracking option is best suited for him or her.
