IBO Mission Statement

The International Baccalaureate aims to develop inquiring, knowledgeable and caring young people who help to create a better and more peaceful world through intercultural understanding and respect.

To this end the organization works with schools, governments and international organizations to develop challenging programs of international education and rigorous assessment.

These programs encourage students across the world to become active, compassionate and lifelong learners who understand that other people, with their differences, can also be right.

To earn an IB diploma you must successfully complete six courses with examinations set by the International Baccalaureate Organization, the Theory of Knowledge course, complete creativity, action, and service hours and write an independent 4,000 word research essay on a topic of your choice.

All IB external examinations and diplomas are prepared and awarded by the International Baccalaureate Organization. Universities may grant advanced standing in certain subject areas to IB graduates.

Theory of Knowledge (TOK)

IB teaches you how to learn, analyze, think critically, detect bias and present rational arguments.

Creativity, Action, Service (CAS)

IB students complete Creativity, Action, and Service hours as counter-balance to academic studies.

Extended Essay (EE)

Diploma candidates must write and submit for external marking a 4,000 word university-style research essay on a subject of their choosing.

The IB Learner Profile
