Hi Alex

We have connected with Ken Boyd who is Director of Education at CIVIX (CTRL-F: Find the Facts — Digital Media Literacy). They describe themselves as a charity dedicated to building the habits and skills of active and informed citizenship among youth.

One of the consultants (Alison MacPherson) saw him speak at a presentation/workshop in TDSB as a parent and said it was very good. The Digital Literacy Team also connected with him as a thought partner and that was a fruitful conversation.

Kelsey Davis, the Digital Literacy Project Manager at CIVIX Canada is who organized the event and is also who Alison reached out to get connected with Ken. Her email is kelsey@civix.ca.

Supporting your Teen Through Stress & Anxiety

This session equips parents with the knowledge and skills needed to understand and effectively support their child or teenager during periods of stress and to understand the difference between the experience of stress and anxiety and an Anxiety Disorder. Through expert-guided sessions, we provide parents with practical strategies, rooted in scientific research, to recognize signs of stress and anxiety, create a nurturing environment, and facilitate open, constructive communication with their children. This workshop empowers parents to build resilience in their family and promote their child's emotional well-being.

Enhancing Self Esteem
