Green Team Update: Stop Water Waste

This month, we're encouraging you all to conserve water! There are many ways to do this, one effective way of conserving water is by not letting the tap run while you brush your teeth.

If you turn off the water while brushing your teeth, you can save up to eight gallons of water per day—that's nearly 3,000 gallons per year.

Another way is to reduce the amount of time you spend showering.

A shorter shower not only saves water, but also saves on the energy used to heat that water. A typical non-conserving showerhead will spray over five gallons per minute (GPM), so cutting your shower from eight minutes to three will save a whopping 25 gallons of water.

What else can you do to help conserve water?

- Take shorter showers
- Turn off the tap when brushing your teeth
- Install water saving shower heads or flow restrictors
- Only run your washing machine when its full
- Run the dishwasher only when it's full
- Check for toilet leaks and use low-flush toilets
- Turn the water off while shaving or washing your hair
- Choose to wash your dishes by hand instead of using the dishwasher
- Take baths - A partially filled tub uses less water than all but the shortest showers
- Collect rainwater for gardening - use a rain barrel
