

LEGACY EBULLETIN

2017 AT LEGACY PS

There has been so much in the work of student achievement, well-being and citizenship here at Legacy PS. We are very proud of the efforts of our students in their own development as well as their initiative in making this world a better place. Our students have met goals, achieved well in standardized tests, and continue to advocate for what they want out of the school. Teachers are learning and challenging themselves to stay current and learn how to prepare our students for the ever changing world they will be entering as adults. As the buckets start to overflow in classrooms our students are recognizing that they are able to make life a bit easier for youth who are challenged to access the Human Right of safe shelter and food. There has been meaningful conversations about charity, access to food and shelter and how one person can make a difference.

Our future is in good hands.

Happy Holidays and Happy New Year to all of our Families!!
