DEPARTMENT SPOTLIGHT

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT: ENGLISH MEDIA (EMS301)

Students in the English Media class at Markville have been busy this past month learning about the film industry. In an effort to give students authentic and valuable experiences they had the opportunity to interview via Skype an acclaimed and award winning industry professional in sound editing. Mr. Taylor Whitham was very accommodating and answered all the interesting questions and queries students had about the film industry.

In addition, last month students in the English Media and Drama classes attended a unique field trip to the Toronto International Film Festival where they participated in a workshop on how to make a film in a day. Students had the opportunity to work with industry professionals to create their very own film from start to finish. They learned about script writing, the basics of shooting, and editing techniques.

With each student taking on a different role in the filmmaking process, students got to experience in person what they have been learning about in their respective classrooms. Finally, having created and produced their very own film, the students demonstrated their creativity, passion, and perseverance while working under tight timelines. It truly was an authentic filmmaking experience!
