Special Education

Exam sign up for Special Education students

During the week of June 10-14th there will be daily announcements reminding students that want to write their exams in the resource to come down to special education room 218 to sign up. We do however recommend that students who normally write tests in their regular classroom remain in their regular class with their teacher.

NOTE: Wherever the student writes they will still receive their accommodations as per their IEP.
