Also, the Giving Tree is looking for new scarves, hats and mitts for those in need of warm clothes this winter. Thank you in advance for your generosity.

December Music Notes

The students of Wilclay continue to contribute to a thriving music program. In addition to regular music classes, we have many music activities going on outside of class time. There is a Recorder Club, a Junior Choir and Intermediate Choir, an Intermediate Band and a Grade 8 Band. Over 100 students from the Junior and Intermediate Divisions are involved in one or more of these activities. It is so exciting to see these students choose to spend their recesses and lunch breaks making music.

On Wednesday, December 17 at 7:00 pm, there will be a Winter Concert and Sing-a-long in Gym 1 for Wilclay families. This is an opportunity to hear the children who are in the choirs and bands perform and show off their talents. There will also be some classes that will be participating in the concert. Please watch for notes from your child's teacher to see if your child will be involved in this opportunity. This will also be a chance for you to be involved and sing-a-long with some seasonal music, led by Mr. Littleford. We look forward to having you join us for this Wilclay tradition.

A Trip to Queen's Park

Today, we went on a bus to the Provincial Parliament Buildings of Ontario. We left the school at 10:00 sharp. When we left the school, we were so curious of what new things we would learn. Everyone was looking forward to seeing a debate. When we arrived at Queen's Park, we went to another building to eat our lunch which was called The MacDonald Building. After lunch, we walked back to Queens Park. Next, we took our jackets and all our other belongings into a room. Then, we met our tour guides to start the tour. First, the guide showed us where the debating happened. Unfortunately, there wasn't any debating happening at the time. At first we were all disappointed, but the guide explained where all the politicians, MPPs, Speaker, media and the journalists sit. Second, the tour guide showed us the broadcasting room where the media puts debating on television. The best and final thing the tour guide showed us was a mini debating room. We had to pretend that we were debating for a new law. It was about whether students should have 4 days of school or 5 days of school. I was the speaker and I had to choose who had to talk and who didn't. Finally, the MPPs voted for 4 days of school. Eighteen students voted for 5 days of school and 20 people voted for 4 days of school. We had a wonderful time at Queen's Park. The best part of the trip was doing a debate between all the students. I hope to come back again one day.

Our Trip To Queen's Park

Can you believe that I just went to a place where Kathleen Wynne and MPPs (Members of Provincial Parliament) make laws? The place is amazing, phenomenal, and breath-taking! Everywhere is truly ultimate! The place I liked the most was the debating chamber! It has the ultimate chair where the Speaker sits. In the chamber, the Clerk writes down everything that's being said in case there are any mistakes. But most important of all it's the room that holds the 3rd gold mace. It marks the time that Canada became an independent country (allowed to make laws by itself without a king or queen). That gold mace is super important because it's a law that the mace must be there every time the Premier and the Opposition (NDP and Conservative party) debate. The mace also points toward the Premier's seat. Speaking of the Opposition, they make the bills the Premier wants to become laws better and more powerful by making changes here and there to the bill; and if the Opposition completely despises the idea they would start arguing. Eventually, whoever gets the most votes wins! The chamber is so colourful, since the two main colors of Ontario are gold and green; which means a lot of the things in the chamber are pure gold!

I also really liked the little room that looks like the chamber that's mainly made for kids like us to have a feeling and idea of how it feels to be in the chamber. We started to have some fun and started debating about whether school kids should wear school uniforms. Since it's a law to have a mace when we're debating, we got a cardboard mace! We also got Nirush as the Speaker, Linger as the Clerk, and Candace as the Sergeant at Arms! They all wore weird jackets and awkward hats. I was in the Opposition and we hated the idea! We eventually won by 12-14! I wish one day I'll go back there and watch Kathleen Wynne and the MPPs debate in the chamber!

Intermediate Boys' Volleyball

Congratulations to the Intermediate Boys' Volleyball team on their 3rd place finish at the Area tournament on November 25.

There were many individual moments of tremendous skill – diving for a difficult shot, beautifully placed serves, and shadowing the ball to be there for the hit. However, it was the teamwork shown as the boys worked together to set up the plays and to communicate encouragement on and off the court that truly showed what a strong team they are.

Way to go, Wildcats!

An Unforgettable Experience at Mansfield

From Wednesday, November 5th to Friday, November 7th, the Grade Sixes had an unforgettable time at Mansfield Outdoor Education Center. Mansfield is a large property surrounded by beautiful forests with cabins for people to sleep in. How did I manage to not get lost? Thank goodness there were cabins because I can't sleep in a tent. We stayed at Mansfield for 3 days and two nights. Mansfield provided us with breakfast, lunch, dinner and a snack. Each cabin took turns setting the tables and cleaning after meals.

The first day at Mansfield was magical. The first thing we did was see the cabins that would be our homes for the next three days. After lunch, there was a scary program called Fur Trade. Fur Trade showed us how people used to trade furs with the Aboriginal people. What's so scary about it? We had to sing or do a dance to entertain the chief before we could make a trade. Did you know that beaver fur was a currency? Before we went to bed, we watched a famous Japanese animated movie called "Spirited Away". Since we were allowed to bring in our sleeping bags to watch the movie, most students fell asleep. They looked hilarious! We were supposed to go to bed, but we spent the night talking and acting crazy. Who wouldn't?

On the second day, it rained, but since we still had to be outside; we were all wet. Our program for the morning was orienteering. We learned how to use maps, and of course I got lost in a million times. After lunch, our next program was Woodland Survival. We went into the forest, built a fire that was ruined by rain, and then we constructed a shelter. I learned an important lesson. I am terrible at surviving! That night we had a campfire, sang songs and ate S'mores. I burnt all five of my marshmallows!

Day three at Mansfield was a winter wonderland! It was snowing, so what did we do first? We had a snowball fight and a snowball fight means snow in our faces. After breakfast, we played a game called Predator and Prey. It's a game where you pretend to be an animal and try to survive. We got to run around in the forest while staying inside the boundaries. I died a horrible death from disease and starvation.

I really enjoyed my experience at Mansfield. I wish I could go again, but sadly I can't. Mansfield is my favourite trip, one I know I will never forget.

Grade Ones Visit the Hospital

Yesterday our class went to the hospital. We went on the bus. First we saw a video about a girl who had to have an operation. We also went to the playroom to make a finger cast. Each person in our class drove a wheelchair. Our leader put a black light over our hands so that we can see the germs. She told us to sing the Happy Birthday song when we wash our hands. When we were leaving, we saw a baby who was born yesterday. We had so much fun on our trip.

Dress for the Weather!

Winter is coming, the days are getting colder and we have had snow on the ground. All students from Junior Kindergarten to Grade 8 are expected to go out for recesses. Students are to come to school ready for winter and prepared to be outdoors for 15 minutes at morning recess and 40 minutes at lunch recess. Students with health concerns, such as, but not limited to, heavy colds, coughs and flu, which are serious enough to prevent them from participating in physical education, recesses or other outdoor activities, should remain at home until the condition improves. We suggest that all students come to school dressed in layers, with a warm jacket, snow pants, winter boots, a hat and waterproof mittens. Extra socks are also a good idea. To avoid adding to the clothing collection in the Lost and Found, please put names on all children's clothing. We always monitor the weather, and when temperatures and/or wind chill reach minus 20 degrees Celsius, we will shorten the recess breaks or keep the students indoors.
